

Canada Flag Connect-the-Dots

The National Flag of Canada was established in 1965. The Canada Flag features two red bars surrounding a red maple leaf on a white background. The maple leaf has been a symbol of Canada's land and people for over 300 years. Red and white have been affiliated with France and England dating back to the clothing of French and English crusaders in the 11th Century and were adopted as Canada's official national colours in 1921.

Draw lines connecting the numbers and letters below. Reveal the maple leaf and colour in Canada's National Flag!
